MISS OPPORTUNITY
YOU MISS SUCCESS

Waiting For the Seventh Wave
Is Foolish.

WISCONSIN FIRM'S SCHEME.

An Up to Date Merchant Who Successfully Fought Fire With Fire—Lo-

Give Them an Opportunity to Figure.
Can and Will Meet Competition.

[Copyrighted, 1914, by Thomas J. Sullivan.] If you want to succeed in the world you must make your own opportunities as you go on.

The man who waits for the seventh wave to toss him on dry land will find that the seventh wave is a long time in coming. You can commit no greater folly than to sit by the roadside until some one comes along and invites you to ride with him to wealth or influence.

Business men, local and otherwise, in the entire country, are desirous of increasing and extending their business, and if they did not care to do this they would not be in business.

Can Successfully Cope.
It is doubtful if there be a local retailer in the country who could not successfully cope with the mail order and catalogue retailer would be but try. This local merchant may not know, but nevertheless it is an absolute fact.

There is a retail firm in a town in Wisconsin which conspicuously displays upon its counters one of the catalogues of the largest Chicago mail order houses, upon the cover of which is pasted a notice that it will furnish any article advertised in the catalogue as cheaply as the buyer can secure the articles from Chicago, and it lives up to the advertisement attached to the very letter.

Mail Order House Seconds.

The substantial local merchant knows well that the cheap stoves sold by the catalogue mail order houses are lightweight stoves; that the iron beds shown in the advertisement matter as massive frames with strong corner posts and heavy crossbars are light, frail castings, commonly known to the trade as "seconds," which no honest or reliable furniture dealer would keep in his stock because he could not sell them to people who were given an opportunity to inspect the goods before purchasing.

Workmen's Compensation.

It is only on very rare occasions that patrons of a mail order house ever get the worth of their money when they buy from the pictures in the catalogue, while, on the other hand, the local retailer, if he understands his business, buys his stock direct from the manufacturers and jobbers who have a reputation at stake and who supply goods of quality to their direct representatives, the retail merchants, throughout the country.

Prize Their Reputations.

The responsible high grade manufacturer and wholesaler will not under any condition or circumstance sell their goods to the catalogue retailer at any price. Many instances are known where catalogue houses secured by trickery a quantity of staple goods of standard make and advertised them as "specials" at ridiculously low prices.
The manufacturers, in order to protect their reputations and interests, necessarily had orders sent in for the entire stock or quantity of the articles through persons in their employ. They did not propose to have their articles, which were standard, advertised by the side of inferior articles of light weight and of decidedly cheap construction.

A Vast Difference.

There are numberless articles which the catalogue house advertises as the best on the market, among which are paints, and it often agrees to furnish an impossible guarantee with this class of goods. However, it is very noticeable that it never attempts to ship its paints into states that require a printed copy of the analysis of the contents of the package.

The answer to this, of course, is that the goods are not as represented in the catalogue. The up to date local merchant, of course, is conversant with these facts and can explain them to his customers if given an opportunity, and he can also, if he understands his business thoroughly, explain the vast difference between the goods sold by the catalogue house and those sold by him.

Articles Challenge Explanations.

The cheap, flashy, flimsy article can never stand alongside of the honest, reliable article without challenging an explanation.

The business man who cannot meet this demand upon him is not up to date, and his education regarding the line of goods he carries should be touched up.

If the home town consumers are alive and awake to their own interest they can begin to educate the local merchants by demanding from them the information concerning the difference in the quality of their goods and the goods of the catalogue retailer. If they are unable to explain they will also be unable to render efficient service to their customers.

It is time merchants of this kind wake up to the situation.

ERADICATE FARM PEST

Quack Grass Reproduces From Seed and From Roots.

Two Methods Recommended to Destroy Weed—Growing Cultural Crop and Summer Fallowing—Much Labor Is Required.

Quack grass can be exterminated, F. L. Kennard of Minnesota says that the principal requisite is a firm resolve to rid the land of the pest.

The weed reproduces both from seed and from underground root stocks. It may be brought to a farm in the form of seed, but the spread is usually by scattering root stocks about with the harrow or other farm implement.

Mr. Kennard recommends two methods of attack: Growing a cultural crop and summer-fallowing.

Where the land is badly infested the former will require a great deal of hard labor. If the pest is to be exterminated no green portion must be allowed to show itself and that means eternal vigilance on the part of the farmer. It is not enough to keep the soil clean between the rows. None of the grass must be permitted to grow in the hills. Two years of this treatment is recommended.

When land is partly occupied, the summer-fallow method is probably most economical. One crop is lost, but the additional yield the succeed-

Ground.

ing year will usually offset this when the low cost of cultivating fallow land as compared with corn land is considered. The field should be plowed in the fall and again in the spring to a depth of six or eight inches. A good mole three inches deep should be prepared with disk and harrow and this mole kept cultivated with sufficient frequency to prevent any growth above the surface of the ground. By preventing this part from developing the roots are simply starved to death.

Sloan's Liniment for Neuralgia Aches.

The dull throb of neuralgia is quickly relieved by Sloan's Liniment, the universal remedy for pain.
Easy to apply; it quickly penetrates without rubbing and soothes the sore muscles. Cleaner and more promptly effective than mussy plasters or ointments; does not stain the skin or clog the pores. For stiff muscles, chronic rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sprain and strains it gives quick relief. Sloan's Liniment reduces the pain and inflammation in insect bites, bruises, bumps and other minor injuries to children. Get a bottle today at your Druggist, 25c.—Advertising.

Salmon of Fast Color.

And in this connection comes a story, which is fairly well authenticated, of how one of the salmon kings started his fortune in the fish industry on the basis of the then despised light-colored salmon. This man had put up his cannery at a location past which the fish came in great numbers on their way in to spawn. He was right in his selection of a site and the salmon were caught in vast quantities. They were all, however, of the light pink variety, and the fisherman was in despair. At that time no light-colored salmon had been shipped and the demand everywhere was for salmon of an almost red hue. The man canned his catch and sold it by means of a label which implied that it was the only sanitary fish on the market.
The label read: "This salmon is warranted not to turn red in the can." The most of the catch went to the southern states, and the drummers selling it did their business so well that in many of the cities of that locality you can hardly sell a red salmon. The people think it is spoiled, and has, therefore, turned red in the can.—Christian Herald.

SOLDIERS GOT RELIEF FROM SORENESS

Boys on the Border Relieved Their Pains and Aches
With Sloan's Liniment.

Once upon a time Norman Jones, serving in the National Guard at El Paso, returned to camp after a strenuous 16 mile hike, foot-sore and and leg-weary. He had not been long in active service and his shoulders, back and limbs felt the after-effects of marching.

Remembering Sloan's Liniment, Jones applied it to the sore spots and went to bed. He writes: "I awoke the next morning feeling fine; in fact I had entirely forgotten about the hike and went out for a four-hour drill in the sun as spry as ever."

Private Jones passed the experience along, and many a boy on the border relieved the agony of sprains, strains, bruises, insect bites, cramped muscles, rheumatic twinges, etc., by the use of Sloan's Liniment.

Easily applied without rubbing.
At all druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

KILLS PAIN

Mad King Dead.

Otto, former King of Bavaria, who has been insane for many years, has died suddenly, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, quoting a Berlin official announcement. The mad King died at Fuerstenried Castle, near Munich, where he had been confined since 1873. King Otto was born April 27, 1848, and succeeded his brother, Ludwig II., in 1886. Ludwig II. also was insane and drowned himself in Starnberg Lake. King Otto was deposed Nov 5, 1913, and was succeeded by the present monarch, Ludwig III, formerly regent.

Divulged the Secret.

There is a prominent man of affairs who is very absent-minded. He was about to leave the office of a bank president when the banker called to him:

"You're losing your petticoat, aren't you, Henry?"

The prominent man, not understanding, gazed at the banker, who continued: "What's that white thing hanging below your trouser legs?"

The man looked down. His face colored and he stepped back into the director's room. When he came out he walked briskly past the bank president, who called: "Here, why don't you explain?"

Coming close, the other whispered:
"Simply forgot to take off my pajamas when I got out of bed this morning."
—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Could He?

He was a perfect wonder, was the parliamentary candidate for a certain agricultural district. And he was never any of telling the voters why they should return him as their M. P.

"I am a practical farmer," said he, boastfully, at one meeting. "I can plow, reap, milk cows, work a chaff-cutter, shoe a horse—in fact," he went on, proudly, "I should like you to tell me one thing about a farm which I cannot do."

Then, in the impressive silence, a small voice asked from the back of the crowd:
"Can you lay an egg?"—London Answers.
